Enlida Energy-Saving Experts Launch New Website

Coulsdon-based company Enlida, this week announces the launch of its new website: <http://www.enlida.co.uk>. Enlida, a Division of Flexi-Freeze Ltd, markets a range of energy efficient products to the corporate market.

The new website gives information on Enlida's products which include a range of energy-saving lighting and commercial boiler management control systems. The company also offers advice on saving energy, comprehensive site surveys and help on applying for Government interest-free loans.

Enlida's Head Office is in Coulsdon, Surrey and the company has a second office in the Greater Manchester area. Enlida is a 'Croydon Business' Partner. Croydon Business was set up to promote the Borough as a prominent centre for business. In addition, Enlida has been awarded a 'Go Green' accreditation by Southlondon.biz which conducts reviews of business premises, including energy and waste management.

Because it is committed to reducing energy costs and CO2 emissions in the corporate market, Enlida is constantly seeking innovative products. Anyone with proven energy-saving products can contact Enlida on 0870 486 0572.

Eileen Debenham, Enlida's Sales and Marketing Director comments, "The new website will be providing the basis for an internet marketing campaign to generate awareness about the need for energy saving. We are also planning a digital brochure which will help reduce the amount of paper wasted by sending out printed information."
